To Resume Apple Certification

The prewar system of certification of apples intended for export by individual orchards will be resumed this year, George Wilson, director of the Fruit Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, said Saturday.

Orchards to be inspected must comply with the requirements for apple maggot control, and must be sprayed in accordance with the recommendations made in the 1946 spray calendar. Requests for orchard certification must be made by June 15.

FRUIT CEILINGS REMAIN

The ceiling on cherries will go down next, the 17th, while the ceiling on peaches, pears and plums will come into effect on or about July 15th. Whether the ceilings will be higher or lower than in previous years is not known, as it has not yet been definitely decided by WPTB just what they will be, but it is quite possible that they will be the same as in previous years.

City Youths Are Held For Assault

No further details were available although Inspector Clark stated that the alleged assault took place sometime on Monday, June 3. He added that both youths are unemployed at present. The investigation was carried out by Inspector Clark, Cpl. Ed. Priest of the St. Catharines detachment of the provincial police and Constable William Gilling of the Grimsby detachment.

Game Overseer F. C. Lamoure, Niagara-on-the-Lake, who laid the charges, reported that anglers have repeatedly been warned that the law permits an angler to have as many poles or throw-out lines as he wishes, but he can have only one in use at one time.

FIGURES FOR NORTH GRIMSBY

North Grimsby Assessor Gordon Metcalfe has returned his Assessment Roll for 1946 and it shows an increase in assessment in the township generally and also in Grimsby Beach, with a total increase over 1945 of $21,607; this despite the fact that the J. A. Jacklin property assessment of $4,000 is now exempt owing to that property becoming church property. The complete figures are as follows:

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

UP TO PARENTS

Now that the motoring season has opened up again and traffic will be heavy on the highways, it might be a good idea for parents to impress their young hopefuls with the necessity of carrying lights on their bicycles. Not likely they will do so, however, as children have the right-of-way in every respect these days. But some evening about twilight a cyclist will be killed by an innocent motorist and the motorist will be damned up and down dale by hysterical parents who should be blaming themselves.

DOUBLE BONUS

That there is now such a thing as duplicate or double baby bonus is revealed in the current issue of Printed Word. How many such are there in Canada? Here is the report and comment:

"In an Ontario township there's a mother, aged fifteen, currently receiving a baby bonus on account of an infant to whom she gave birth not long since. The mother's mother is at the same time receiving the baby bonus on account of her erring daughter. If the fifteen-year-old girl had acquired a lawful husband she would have deprived her mother of $8 per month. A cynic suggests that perhaps the infant's father's mother also may be getting the bonus on his account, but there is a regrettable lack of exact information on that point."

The foregoing is, in a way, relevant to a recent statistical report issued at Ottawa showing that in 1944 there were 186 illegitimate babies born in that city. A correspondent objects to the way the report reads and protests that there are "no such animals as illegitimate children." He insists that the report should read that in 1944 Ottawa had 372 illegitimate parents. In that view, at least, there is liberal tolerance for the status of the little ones, something which, in this era, has grown with ever increasing Christian tolerance of mind.

HOW INFLATION WORKS

What makes inflation finally disastrous in not only the rise in wages and the increased cost of everything that wages buy. The fatal ingredient is something else. It is old human nature. It is this that lends wisdom to the quip that a little inflation is like a little pregnancy. For example we note that the controlled price of steel in the United States was permitted to rise $5 a ton. That would not seem much for such a large quantity, especially since it was granted to cover a wage increase.

But the $5 rise will be only the beginning. We presume that there is not a ton of steel in an average automobile, but there are at least several hundred pounds. Does any one suppose that as a result of the increase in steel there will be only an increase of $5 or less than $5 in the price of an automobile? If the cost of an automobile is to be at all affected by the increase in steel prices, the rise, we may be sure, will not be less than $50.

If the wholesaler has to pay half a cent a pound more for a certain commodity, nothing is more certain than that he will not limit the increase to the retailer to the half cent. He will more likely add a cent or two cents. Then the retailer will certainly add another five cents, so that when the article reaches the consumer he has paid just ten times the amount of the basic price increase. So it will proceed all through industry and commerce, the small increases breeding the larger increases, until the wheel goes full circle and it is found once more necessary to increase the basic price. That is how inflation works.

COSTS MORE TO RETIRE NOW

"Until a few years ago scores of thousands of Canadians could contemplate secure retirement on life savings of $10,000 to $20,000," points out The Financial Post. "A farmer could sell his farm, or a small merchant his store, invest the proceeds at 6% and this income plus that from what he had already saved would allow him to live in comfort the rest of his days."

"He can't do that now and with interest rates still declining he will be in greater difficulties tomorrow.

"Twenty thousand dollars invested in good securities gave a man an income of about $100 per month before the war. To get the same income now requires an investment of $40,000."

"In the meantime," continues The Post, "those planning retirement face a double squeeze. The tremendous increase in income tax makes it more difficult to accumulate savings and the sharp rise in the cost of living makes a greater income from those savings necessary."

"Hardest hit is the middle class, farmers, small businessmen and salaried people. With their own security plans menaced by high taxes and low interest, they are asked to contribute the bulk of the billion dollars a year Ottawa is now spending on social legislation largely to benefit somebody else."

ANSWER TO CALUMNY

That Britain was able to participate in victory only through the expenditure in American money and the sacrifice of Russian lives, has been for some time past a calumny which was left to the powerful pen of Lord Beaverbrook to refute. And he has done it fairly well in The Daily Express, the newspaper of the United Kingdom with the greatest circulation.

Beaverbrook has found that the United States put into the pool the sum of $10,916,000,000, American funds and the British Empire made a contribution of $15,428,000,000 funds. And any reasonable person will agree that in the air, on the sea and on land, British casualties, in proportion to total population, bore down much harder on the United Kingdom than the losses suffered by the forces of the United States. The manpower contribution can only be considered relatively. In the matter of money, Canada was a direct contributor of $845,000,000, well over three billions.

A recent St. Catharines visitor to one of the New England States came home with the report of the amazing lack of information among Americans as to Canada's contribution in the war. The prevailing belief is that Canada was among the nations nursed by American Lend-Lease, whereas this Dominion, relatively, was as much a nursing nation as was the United States itself. Whatever this Dominion spent for publicity in the United States, seems to have only gone down the drain as far as keeping the American people accurately informed can now be assessed. It was found that such a thing as a Canadian news item in a Boston newspaper was an oddity. Obviously American people who are abreast of Canadian affairs have to come within the country itself to keep informed. This condition will perpetuate that annoyance to Canadian tourists, in so many parts, even big cities of the Union, where a Canadian dollar is regarded as just another Mex. The average Canadian schoolboy knows his United States. It will be a great day if it ever becomes reciprocal.

SOME DAY

An artist by the name of James Montgomery Flagg has this to say about the present day girls:

"Girls used to be luscious; now they are indigestible. The bobby-soxers are ruining the American tradition of beautiful women. I abhor sloppy women. If women had an ounce of sense they would never dress as they do. Men's attire they affect—shirt and jeans—is indecent. Everybody's laughing at American women, and I'd laugh myself if I weren't so disgusted."

Perhaps the artist would say the same thing about our Canadian girls. If so, we think he is just a little bit hasty. Man's lament against feminine apparel has made a long serial story. First he hates and then he learns to admire. It doesn't matter whether it is crinolines, iron stays and wasp waists, leg of mutton sleeves, Merry Widow hats, bloomers, pantalettes, short skirts or no skirts, rolled stockings or no stockings, treble petticoats, trains or hoops, man always came round in the end.

For after all if a girl uses plenty of soap and water before donning her shirt and jeans, uses tooth paste and perfume with discretion, cooks with patience and smiles as a girl knows how to smile, she is going to stand some boy on his head.

There is nothing surer than that. And more, her generation will have just as many weddings or perhaps, more; just as many babies, we hope more. And when she gets to be a grandmother, which she will, men then, as now, will be pointing out a moral and singing about women in the good old days.

MODERN MACHINERY PLUS

The Letter-Review quoted the reply of a group of Amish farmers in Pennsylvania when a government official sent them a letter urging them to alter their religion so as to use machinery to increase production. They replied that every acre of Amish land was already plowed and that they were not going to urge their farmers to copy their neighbors and let the plowing go until they could buy non-existent tractors.

Comment in the Letter Review was to the effect that even such a very desirable thing as farm machinery is not equal to old-fashioned industry as a factor in production. We would be tempted to change that comment to a statement that all the modern machinery in the world will be ineffective without old-fashioned industry.

There is no doubt whatever that modern farm machinery will speed up production, even where it is found pretty costly to buy and operate. But even modern machinery requires to be operated with all the diligence that the conscientious farmer devoted to a farm before this became available. It isn't going to do him any good to take a fine day off, thinking that modern machinery will make hay if it rains on the next day. The hazards of farming remain fixed by nature and modern machinery is only one way of hastening hay making while the sun shines.

That is the reason that the farmer looks coldly on union organizers who hold out rosy dreams of forty hour weeks. He would like a forty hour week just fine, but he knows only too well that not one natural factor with which he has to struggle knows the most elemental meaning of the words "Controlled production."

A LINK WITH THE PAST

It is sad to see the gradual disappearance throughout the country of the rail and stump fences, which have so long sprawled across the fields in lazy fashion. It is like losing an old friend. An invention born out of necessity, they are giving way to the more efficient, but so impersonal, wire strands and steel posts.

They were set out by the voneers who cleared the land and built the arms now so productive. The fences are evidences of the long hours of toil, the aggressiveness and the determination of the pioneer. They stand as memorials to the men who contributed so much to the building of our country.

There is something romantic in the way the fences zig-zag across the countryside. They are particularly scenic in winter, as they ramble on through the snow drifts.

Yes, they are a product of an era when the settler matched his talents against Nature to bring the land under cultivation. They have served their purpose well, even as the men who made them.

Those who go to war on a shoestraps usually find that the string breaks. Just Hitler.

When people do not like their home town, the reason in some cases is that they have not taken advantage of all the opportunities and advantages which it offers.

Anyway applause and commendation for those who try to push the home town ahead always help. They give the leaders the feeling that their efforts are appreciated and encourage them to go on with the wood work.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

(By J. V. McAREE, in the Globe and Mail)

One day last week on a King Street car we saw a well-dressed middle-aged man wearing a solitaire diamond ring. Forty years or so ago the sentence would have been more arresting if we had reported the sight of a well-dressed middle-aged man wearing a diamond ring. In the old days the wearing of a diamond ring was the proper and expected announcement of affluence in the middle-aged. In younger men it might have had another meaning. The young men who were able to wear diamond rings were, for the most part, sports. They signified a burst of prosperity by buying a solitaire ring, costing perhaps a hundred or a couple of hundred dollars. They were assured—and it may have been true for all we know to the contrary—that diamonds never depreciated in value. To have a diamond ring worth $150 was practically the same thing as having $150 in bills, and it looked a good deal better. So if ill-fortune should come the ring could be sold, or better still pawned, and then redeemed when the skies brightened. If you wore a diamond ring it was taken for granted that you would do better with the dames.

Nowadays the rings we see on men's hands are plain gold signet rings or bloodstones. Gems are out like patent leather shoes and sweeping mustaches. We have never heard why the fashion changed. It is possible that golfing had something to do with it, men who were using their hands in violent exercise not wishing to have them cumbered with rings, especially valuable rings whose jewelled settings might become loose and lost. Maybe the idea got around that for men to wear jewellery was effeminate, and if this was accepted it would certainly put an end to the habit among young men who had not yet reached the golfing stage. These are mere conjectures. Certain it is that with the solitaire diamonds there also disappeared the almost universal habit of wearing tiepins. We have even seen gems carried things too far. However, as the immortal Diamond Jim Brady once said "I've noticed that them as has 'em wears 'em." Diamond studs in shirt fronts were once as common almost as earrings. Now one sees only plain gold or pearl studs.

Men still wear watch chains but they are no longer massive; they are no longer heavy enough to serve as handcuffs. They are no longer spread across the chest from one vest pocket to another. They no longer support lockets, or gold mounted alk's teeth or other rich-looking trophies. The vogue of the wrist watch, of course, explains this change in fashion; and even men who carry ordinary watches attached to chains prefer chains that are inconspicuous.

It is possible that the invention of cheap watches had something to do with this. Ingersolls used to be sold for a dollar, whereas when we were a boy the man who had a gold watch was certain to have paid a hundred dollars or more for it. This magnificent timepiece obviously warranted a chain that would not bring shame upon it; but when men began wearing watches costing from a dollar to $10 it was an obvious incongruity to spend $75 or $80 for a chain.

This, too, is mere conjecture, and for all we know there were other and more important reasons which brought about this great change in the matter of men's jewelry. Diamond-mounted cuff-links, if they have not passed out of existence, have passed beyond the scope of our observation, like silk handkerchiefs and fur gauntlets and sealskin caps.

We recall two young men of many years ago who were brothers and looked much alike. They may have been twins. They were distinguished among their friends as the rich Beemer and the poor Beemer. The rich Beemer attained his standing by the possession of a gold ring in which was set a large white stone. He used to pass many a pleasant moment regarding it as he lay in bed while the poor Beemer viewed him enviously. There was also a notable ring which figured in a neat swindle of which Mike McConnell, proprietor of a King St. saloon, was the intended victim. There was a poker game running all night in a private room behind the bar and one day a stranger was admitted to it. He had varying fortunes, and from time to time when he was out of funds he would borrow a couple of hundred dollars from Mike, leaving his handsome ring as a security. Mike before making the original advance had the ring examined by an expert and learned that it was worth more than a thousand dollars. Therefore he had no hesitation in taking it as a security for considerable loans, which were always promptly repaid and the ring redeemed.

One night the stranger, who had by this time established himself as a good sport took off the ring, handed it to Mike and asked for $500. Mike took the money out of his pocket and was on the point of tossing the ring into a drawer when some instinct caused him to give it a second look. It was obviously a cheap imitation, bearing a general resemblance to the good ring, and represented the culmination of a scheme spread over several weeks which had for its sole purpose the gypping of Mike. The stranger did not wait for any further investigation, but left and was seen no more. But we have no doubt that his racket survived and was more rewarding in greener pastures.

To-day a man flashing a valuable ring would be immediately an object of suspicion. Instead of being accepted as an evidence of affluence it would more likely suggest something slightly eccentric if not sinister. However, we think that when a man gets to be middle-aged or elderly, he ought to be able to wear what pleases him, irrespective of the current mode; and if he prefers to wear a diamond instead of surrendering it to his wife, who shall lift a supercilious eyebrow in his direction?

THE OLD HOUSE

Just a ramshackle house at the side of the road, Weather stained, shabby and gray. But a sturdy old rambler still clings to the porch, And the hollyhocks blossom and sway, To a gay little breeze That sifts through the trees, Where the robin's song trembles all day.

Just a ramshackle house like a lonesome old crone, Living alone with her dreams, But the oak tree remembers the life that is gone, While a blue jay chuckles and screams, And a mourning dove grieves With his nest 'neath the eaves, Sighs while the pale moon gleams.

Just a ramshackle, yet once it was home, Its old walls hallowed to play, Gay children hastened where tall weeds now grow, Here a woman's hand away. But those years hang flown, And the children have grown, And the old home is today.

The school magazine "Torch" is nearing the end of its long journey to the press. The committee who did all the hard work are: Editor-in-chief, Ruth Manning; Literary Editor, A. Jeffries; Sports Editors, D. Metcalfe, D. Riches; Social Editor, J. DelaPlante; Jokes Editor, P. Thompson; Art Editor, H. Whyte; Business managers, A. Brydon, B. Fisher; Advertising Managers, L. Rahn, F. Dafee, D. Mogg; Staff Advisors, Miss N. Hosford and Mrs. J. Jones; Form Representatives, M. Gracey, H. Maclean, D. Kemp, A. MacMillan, J. Jarvis, R. Clark, E. Griffith. The main features of the magazine are the pictures and biographies of all Grimsby service men who attended G.H.S. and were killed overseas. That energetic "whiz" in fifth — Miss A. Jeffries has written a thrilling mystery that would keep Sherlock Holmes busy. The class news and jokes, they say, are really rare, especially the class prophecies. Our famous, at least around Grimsby, photographer, H. Whyte, has taken care of the pictorial section. Other highlights of the magazine are sports writings, essays, poetry, both amusing, confusing and serious and many other swell topics. This promises to be a history making edition so if you would like a copy get in contact with Lois Rahn, Frances Dafee or Don Mogg and tell them the number of copies you wish.

A number of athletic minded students travelled east to compete in the C.O.S.S.A. in St. Kitts on Saturday. The G.H.S. muscle man — Gordon Ruse came through with a first in the Senior shot put, John Pasche who only think of athletics and occasionally girls, got a third in Intermediate Broad Jump and Second Form's Earle Metcalfe got a third in Intermediate High Jump, he jumps distances almost equal to his height.

Mrs. J. A. Graham and representatives of the Red Cross visited G.H.S. this week to organize a class to teach swimming instructors this month. There will be ten G.H.S.'ers attending this class.

Need we say that final exams start tomorrow?

Friday night's Dance at the school proved very unusual, the boys' stag line complaining about the lack of "femmes", it's usually just the opposite. Those two gay gals from third, between themselves, are really keeping a certain new gallant in town busy, too bad he didn't arrive at the dance sooner!

It seems some G.H.S.'ers spent Saturday evening dancing too, at the Caribou Inn.

Mr. S. Hooper has had the misfortune to get an attack of chicken-pox just before examination time. I guess he'll have plenty of hopeful visitors!

Clothing Wanted For Europeans

The Hon. Russell T. Kelley, Provincial Chairman of the National Clothing Collection for Ontario announces that the Ontario quota has been set at 6 million pounds.

As the Province has a population of four million, if the quota is to be achieved, every man, woman and child must donate at least one and a half pounds of serviceable wearing apparel or bedding said Mr. Kelley. Unless Ontario, and the rest of Canada, together with other of the World's more fortunate populations, answer their appeal, International Relief Agencies estimate that 130 million people, including 25 million children, face death from cold and sickness because of exposure next winter in Europe, as an aftermath of World War II.

Mr. Kelley further stated that all kinds of used, serviceable clothing are required these include suits, overcoats, uniforms, work clothes for men and boys, infants' clothes of all types, coats, dresses, aprons and smocks for girls and women, shoes in pairs (tied securely with string), caps, felt hats, knitted headwear, gloves, woollen socks, under-clothing, piece goods, blankets, sheets and linen, draperies and demanants.

All washable garments and goods should be washed, but need not be ironed. Other garments need not be dry-cleaned. Clothes without buttons are acceptable, as supplies of buttons are moving into lands where the clothing will be worn. Items pillows and mattresses, should NOT be given.

Give the average man enough rope nowadays and he will sell it at a big profit.

IN THE YEAR 1873, the Canadian West was a vast, little-known territory and its administration appeared to be an almost insuperable task. Uncertain communications with Eastern Canada complicated the many problems of law enforcement and control.

Faced with this almost impossible situation Prime Minister Sir John A. MacDonald displayed a vision, faith and purpose incredible even today. A small group of 300 handpicked men was formed and to it was entrusted the enormous task of bringing law and order to this unsettled tract of 300,000 square miles in accordance with his high ideals and great purpose. How this little band of men justified his faith and vision is one of the proudest records in Canadian history.

Thus was born "The Silent Force"—a gallant body of men who formed the first of Canada's famous North West Mounted Police. It was due to their courage, determination and strength of purpose Canada's great North West was made safe for settlement. The fame of the North West Mounted Police spread throughout the world. Even their enemies knew that they could rely on the word of a "Mountie", and their operations formed a pattern of law enforcement everywhere.

In 1911, as a recognition of their services to the nation, they were chosen to represent Canada at the Coronation of George V. They were the "Silent Force", a gallant band of men whose faith and high purpose helped to lay the foundations of the Canada of today.

Today, every one of us can help to lay the foundations of the Canada Unlimited of tomorrow. The Victory Bonds we hold are a silent force for national progress.

CITIZENS COMMITTEE

such decision as may be arrived at by the city council on or before July 1, touching the question of financial support of this committee by the city council and to consider such further matters as may be thought advisable under the circumstances then existing.

Copies of the resolution will be forwarded to the city council and to the county council "for the information of both bodies."

Warden Robert Johnston, reeve of Port Dalhousie, and Ald. Harry Robinson, finance chairman, both spoke to the resolution outlining the attitude of their respective councils.

O. S. Boase, supervisor of the citizens committee, reported that since the January meeting 1,673 interviews have been held with veterans and members of their families, and 506 letters have been sent out from the office in St. Catharines pertaining to rehabilitation matters. "We do not keep a record of the telephone calls, suffice it to say that they are numerous," he added.

Mr. Boase's report showed that veterans and their families in all sections of Lincoln County had received assistance, and indicated the wide scope of the work ranging from bank loans and financial advice to arranging a farm for a veteran who wanted to go on the land.

The report also showed that veterans of both wars are being assisted, and he added: "If by helpful advice and sympathetic understanding we can rescue one veteran of this war from such a fate, then I think you will may indulge in a feeling of self-gratification in your membership in this committee."

In his chairman's report, Mr. Woodward said "rehabilitation cannot be regarded as complete until the men and women who served in our forces have been fully assimilated into the stream of civilian life. Such assimilation requires the fulfillment of at least three essential conditions," and he listed the following:

Satisfactory employment must have been obtained; satisfactory living conditions must have been secured and satisfactory relationships must have been established or re-established between returned men and all the various segments of the community with which they comes into contact.

Mr. Woodward reported that there was a considerable improvement in veteran re-employment and "it seems likely that within a month or so the situation will be well in hand, broadly speaking."

The housing situation, he added, "remains acute in spite of the various steps which have been taken to deal with the matter."

The chairman's report dealt with the reception which have been tendered veterans, both men and women, and complimented the Kiwanis Club for their assistance to handicapped veterans.

Continuing Mr. Woodward said: "The suggestion is made from time to time that employers should be required to employ a certain percentage of handicapped persons. I submit that this suggestion is indicative of a misconception of the underlying circumstances. The suitable employment of any person, whether handicapped or not, depends upon the opportunity to use certain abilities, which vary with every individual. The essential consideration is the fullest possible exercise of the powers

has. The situation is ferent of handicaps, which a man vital question is not in no way dif- unable to do?" but "What is he do?" With too many people can be paramount question in their the is the handicap from which mind individual suffers. The para- in- question should be the capacities which remain to him. I recommend this thought to you because the difficulties which are involved in proper placement fall into a more correct perspective, when the situation is approached from this mental standpoint."

junction against the company was granted.

We understand from Mr. Alway that this nuisance, if it really existed, can be overcome by the construction of an addition of considerable footage to the smokestack, which is being done, and also by ceasing to operate the plant for about a month or six weeks in the spring when the trees are coming in to bloom and the young foliage coming out.

The reopening of this plant will be a great boon to the whole Fruit Belt as its product is badly needed.

YANKEE FRUIT

ment of Agriculture are powerless to do anything about the matter.

There is no doubt that the placing of this cull fruit on the market, particularly at this season of the year, does considerable injury to the Canadian peaches when they go on the market.

American cherries are now flooding the Canadian market, right at the beginning of the Canadian strawberry season, and only a short period away from when the Canadian cherries will be on the market. Why should all this be? Is our Dominion government so callous that they care not whether the Canadian fruit grower exists or not? There is something wrong some where.

ONTARIO FRUIT CROP

at present indicated in Niagara, Burlington, Norfolk and Peel-York with prospects poor in other districts owing to frost injury.

Peaches: Trees and foliage are in excellent condition and following heavy bloom crop prospects are at present average to above average in Niagara, Burlington and Norfolk districts but below average in Middlesex and Essex due to blossom frost injury in those areas.

Strawberries: The general condition of plantations is good with plants in healthy condition and making good growth. An increase in bearing plant population is reported from the Niagara and Burlington districts and Peel-York, with varying decreases in Norfolk, Brant and Georgian Bay districts, with no change in Middlesex, Head of Lakes and south-western counties. In some areas, however, there is reported to be less blossoms per plant than usual and preliminary prospects point to an overall anticipated crop approximately five to ten per cent larger than last year. There has been a heavy demand for new plants this Spring.

This picture is not an exaggeration. The infants and children who have no more to wear than this little babe run into the hundreds of thousands in the war-devastated areas of Europe. They need serviceable used clothing which can be supplied to them through the National Clothing Collection for overseas relief to be held June 17-29 under the auspices of Canadian Allied Relief. This worthy campaign will be conducted on a nationwide basis.

Raspberries: Raspberry plantations generally appear in good condition with acreage showing a slight increase over last year. With continued favourable conditions and ultimate satisfactory bloom crop prospects should be at least equal to last year.

Grapes: Vineyards are in excellent condition with vines making good growth, but buds are not sufficiently advanced to indicate any definite crop prospects in terms of bunches.

EASTERN ONTARIO

Pears: Trees wintered in good condition. Regular sprays have been applied. Most varieties are now in full bloom and showing a heavy blossom. Prospects are for an above average crop.

Plums: Trees in good condition. Most varieties are now in full bloom. Some varieties are patchy while most are showing a heavy blossom. Prospects are for an average crop.

Cherries, Sour: Trees in fairly good condition. Late spring frosts caused some bud injury depending on location of orchard. A few orchards showing a heavy blossom while others are very irregular. Prospects in general are below average.

Strawberries: Early blossom damaged by frost in some localties. Most patches are developing a good growth and are looking better after recent rains. Prospects point to a yield of 20% above the 1945 crop if weather conditions continue favourable. Considerable new planting went in last year.

Raspberries: Some plantings are looking well while others are showing heavy winter damage. With a considerable new planting last season present prospects are for a below average to average crop.

Some men are not lazy. They are just allergic to work.

Additions to Rural Hydro Service

Your Commission desires to bring to the attention of Ontario farmers who have applied for Hydro service, a condition which is now seriously slowing up the building of rural extensions.

Essential materials and equipment are in extremely short supply, and the prospects of obtaining additional quantities in the immediate future are very meagre. Strikes in various basic industries and the extraordinary national demand are holding back the supply of all equipment needed.

While the Commission will exert every effort to obtain material and equipment for rural line construction, it can complete this year only a small part of the full program which it had planned. Consequently, many applications already approved will not, of necessity, be completed this year.

Your Commission will endeavour to serve all applicants in order of receipt of applications, giving preference to all farm and similarly essential applications over those for other types of service.

These facts are presented for your information, and with the expectation that they will enable you to bear more patiently with a situation beyond the control of your Commission.

"THE BEAVER"

Based upon a picture
painted for Carling's
by Beverly Herbert

This is one of a series of illustrations on the subject of the Conservation of Canada's natural assets designed to emphasize the fact that the beauties of unspoiled nature that we enjoy today are a precious birthright which we must protect for tomorrow.

Countless millions of people in Europe and Asia desperately need all the used garments that the men, women, and children of Canada can spare. They need clothes to replace the rags on their backs, to keep warm, to restore their health and self-respect. An urgent appeal is made to every Canadian family to ransack their attics, wardrobes, trunks and contribute every serviceable garment that they can spare to the National Clothing Collection. Local depots will be announced shortly.

Meet "MR. CONSERVATION"

To many of us the beaver is a queer little animal with a flat tail, usually found on the reverse side of the Canadian 5c piece. But to the hunter, the trapper, and the woodsman—the beaver is known as the guardian of the waters—as "Mr. Conservation" in person.

By damming small streams the beaver makes ponds which store water for a slower, more even distribution, preventing floods and droughts. In beaver ponds fish spawn, muskrats make their homes and migratory wildfowl find sanctuary. As old beaver ponds fill up they become rich, moist meadows.

These are the reasons why the beaver is protected by wise conservation laws. But we can do more than protect the beaver—we can emulate him. In many parts of Canada flood control projects are under way. Such works, vital to the national economy, can be helped immeasurably by a more general awareness of the needs and methods of conservation.

Every Canadian is a shareholder in the vast heritage of wealth and wild life with which nature has endowed us. Every one of us has a vital interest and a duty to preserve that heritage.

SPORTOLOGY

(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)

HE'S AWAY TO THE RACES—BIG RUSHTON was walking on air bubbles high in the stratosphere on Saturday night for his juvenile hardball team in their first game pulled out a nice juicy win that went 10 innings, over a team that was last year's Hamilton Juvenile league champions, the DODGERS, and a right smart aggregation of young ball tossers they are. PEACH BUDS also proved that they were an up and coming bunch of horsehide tossers. While they lacked a lot of the finish and experience of the visitors they proved that they were a battling crew and showed plenty of talent in the rough both at the bat and in the field. DOUGLAS AITON who winds them up from the port side was on the mound for the visitors who pitched masterly ball. He had one bad session in the fourth when the visitors nicked him for four tallies but he settled down and from then on pitched masterly ball. DODGERS scored one in the 2nd, two in the 3rd, four in the 4th and led the BUDS 7-5 going into the 9th. They got one in the 9th to make their total eight, but the BUDS came back fighting and grabbed three in this frame to tie up the works and force further play. In the 10th the DODGERS went scoreless while the BUDS kept slamming the pellet for a further total of four, thus taking the game 12-8. This pair of kid teams are serving up a nice brand of ball. They will play again this coming Saturday afternoon on the Public School grounds at 3.30 sharp and the ball fans of the district are asked to turn out and give the youngsters a great big hand. Any person who would like to make a donation to help the kids along in purchasing equipment and to defray travelling expenses can leave their do-ri-me at the desk of this columnist or at RUSHTON'S Restaurant.

Lawn Bowling

by Kitty

There has been considerable activity on both local greens and at other Clubs during the past week, and Beamsville members continue to make a good showing wherever they go.

Last Wednesday night at Glenridge greens in St. Catharines, George Warner of the Beamsville Club, walked off with first place. In the twelve-end games, Warner walked off with three wins, eighteen plus and fifty-four aggregate. Frank Hurst was Warner's mate. Harvey Tufford and Artie Clark, another Beamsville entry placed third, with three wins, seventeen plus and a forty nine aggregate.

Three Beamsville rinks were entered at Grace Club on Saturday, however, none of the rinks were hot enough to walk off with any of the laurels. It was the same story on Sunday, when three rinks were entered at the Hyde Park greens in Niagara Falls, N.Y.

The Ladies Jitney held on the Beamsville greens last Friday night, produced the following winners.

Ladies—Mrs. R. Book, Vineland; Mrs. P. Foster, Beamsville; Miss R. Robertson, Beamsville.

Men's—Brock Snyder, Grimsby; Bert Harvey, Beamsville and Jess Spence, Vineland.

There were thirty present for the regular Monday night Jitney, and cool weather continues to hamper the activities of the lawn bowlers. On keen greens, the following were winners: Ladies—Dorothy Juhke, Beamsville; Marg Foster, Beamsville and Ruth Robertson, Beamsville. Men's—Harvey Tufford, William Honsberger and Herm Smith of Grimsby.

A delightful treat of hot dogs, cake and tea were served, and was appreciated by all. Mrs. David Wright was the convener.

No Re-Take For Movie Egg Scene

When script writer Clemence Dane wrote in an egg for a breakfast scene between Robert Donat and Deborah Kerr in "Vacation from Marriage," the M-G-M London film showing at the Roxy to-night and Friday night, she forgot about England's acute rationing. Prop men, however, after diligent search produced two eggs for use on the set, with the warning that they had been condemned by the food inspector. Gingerly the "highest" egg was placed on the table as a stand-in and the scene rehearsed. Then the stars took their places and held their breath while the second egg was carefully conveyed into position and the scene was shot. Luckily no retakes were required!

BEAMSVILLE NEWS

News From
BEAMSVILLE
High School

by Whozit Inc.

Forsoaking studies, so that the presses might roll again, I find just enough time this week to give you a bit of the latest news around B.H.S. Around thirty students visited Caribou Inn last Friday night, and were pleasantly surprised with this new hang-out for teen agers. As per usual the Beamsville gang were too modest to do much dancing, but a couple of Grimsby kids more than made up for this shyness. Richie's dancing was especially good, according to word being spread about. It was with considerable disappointment that the mighty Jewson's smiling face, did not grace the joint. Studying too hard, Har!

Stricker's new flivver came in for much attention, personally we consider it quite a pile of junk. Alas! A new menace now graces the King's highways.

Beamsville boys have been robbed! The robber in this case is "Doug the Barber." Yep, all the guys are getting brush-cuts, and you can't tell one from the other. "Doug" and our boy Junior sure look cute.

Did you-all know that we all have a southerner in our little town, yo-all, she's nuff. She all is an ex-student who attended David Lipson College, way down there in Tennessee. Reckon she all doesn't know for certain, whether she likes the southern drawl or not. Honey lamb.

Most of you will remember Bill "Corky" Corcoran who is now in the U.S. Navy. A few gals simply swooned over our little boy in blue.

Orchids and stuff like that there to Mary Platts and Howard Darcy who made the grade at "Mac" this year. Also to Stevie, who will school-marm next year. Look out kids! It should happen to Central Collegiate. Darn.

That's about all the news that can be scraped up this week. You see, three times a year kids in Beamsville settle down to a little cramming, and this is one of the times. To flunk or not to flunk. That is the burning question.

Presentation

The annual Family Party of Trinity United Church was again a happy event, the Missionary Groups and the Woman's Association being well-represented. The President, Mrs. W. C. Almack, led in the Devotional Study and taking as her theme, Psalm 2, spoke on the intellectual, political and religious unrest among nations. Mrs. Almack stated that struggles are the pangs of growth and the urge for a more abundant life and that the nations that serve God are happy nations.

Mrs. L. B. Tufford brought to the meeting highlights of the Dominion Board Conference, recently held in Toronto. In reviewing the various addresses, Mrs. Tufford stated that the necessity of waging war on the sins of intemperance, divorce, dishonesty and gambling was emphasized. The importance of maintaining religious education in small places was urged, as many of the candidates for ministry are from these sections. Throughout all the lectures was the predominant fact that the Christian home is the background of all religious growth. A recent delegate to Japan reported that the Japanese Christians had the doors of Japan wide open for the return of our missionaries. A recommendation was passed by the conference that "Inter-Church Committees" be formed throughout Church districts for conference of Christian women and co-operative promotion of religious education.

The concluding portion of the meeting was held in the Sunday School room, where the Mission Band and Baby Band presented an interesting programme. The Baby Band leader reported an enrolment of fifty-three babies.

Before the serving of tea, Mrs. C. J. Freeman, on behalf of the ladies of the congregation, presented Mrs. Almack with a walnut table. Mrs. C. W. Elmore, who assisted in the presentation, paid tribute to Mrs. Almack's leadership and co-operation in her work, assuring her that the good wishes of the congregation would accompany her to her new home.

Talk is still cheap. It's about the only darn thing that hasn't advanced in price.

You can tell a person of good taste. They have a taste very similar to your own.

McLEAN—MOWAT

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday last, June 8th, when Jessie Munro, daughter of the late John and Mrs. Mowat, became the bride of John Pearson McLean, of Toronto, son of Mrs. Mary McLean and the late Robert McLean, of Hamilton. The Rev'd Stuart Woods officiated.

With the bride's gown of pink satin and sheer she wore a fingertip veil, and shoes to match her gown. Her flowers were Briarcliff roses, sweet peas and Bouvardia. She was given away by her brother, Mr. James Mowat, while her sister, Mrs. R. Elwyn Smith, of Hamilton, acted as matron of honour, wearing blue taffeta with fuchsia accessories, and carrying Johanna Hill roses in pastel colour. The groom was attended by Mr. R. Elwyn Smith, and the ushers were Murray Grant, Orilla and William Mowat, Beamsville.

The wedding music was in charge of Mrs. E. Clark, and Mrs. C. McArthur sang most acceptably "The Lord's Prayer," and "All Joy be Thine."

Following the ceremony the bridal party and friends attended a reception at the Mowat home on Lincoln Avenue. The bridegroom's mother wore a suit of wool broadcloth in dusty rose shade, with rose-trimmed hat and brown accessories. Her corsage was of deep mauve sweet peas.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Mary McLean, Hamilton; Lt. E. McLean, sister of the bridegroom, Charleston, West Va.; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Murray, Stratford; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pearson, Mr. W. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Pearson, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. A. Mowat, Miss Anne Mowat, of Oshawa; and Mr. and Mrs. T. Mowat and family, Niagara-on-the-Lake.

The young couple are spending the honeymoon in Northern Ontario, the bride travelling in navy blue crepe with white accessories and corsage of gardenias. They will make their home in Toronto.

Of Interest To Future Brides

A shower for the bride may be given at any hour of the day or evening convenient to her and to the guests. In some cases shower presents take the place of wedding presents, in others they are extras and wedding presents also are sent. It depends on the depth of your purse and the closeness of your acquaintance with the bride-to-be.

If the invitation specifies linen, kitchen utensils the gifts should be those indicated. Showers should be given by friends of the bride rather than members of her family, especially the mother or sister of the bride, who if they wish to entertain in her honor give a party to which no gifts are expected, as in the case of a shower. Their party may take the form of a luncheon, tea, dinner or supper, a bridge or, if it's a summer wedding, a picnic.

A happy home nowadays is one where the occupants have a long lease.

Girl Guides

THE GUIDE CAMP

"Wetoo have walked in Arcady" might be the song of the Guides who enjoyed the first West Lincoln Division Camp for the Victoria Day weekend. For the cottage discovered for us by Mrs. C. M. Bonham is called "Arcadia."

Surrounded by woods alive with an unusual number of birds, with its own beach, able to receive twenty-two Guides and four Guiders, "Arcadia" is in very truth. The Camp leaders were Mrs. M. Hewitt, Blue Cord Diploma, and Miss M. Mataell, Medal of Merit. They gave us of their best and the perfect preparations made by the District Commissioner who acted as Quartermaster ensured a camp that went without a hitch.

Victoria Day was given up to Second Class Badge work made exciting by relay games, "sealed orders" and competitions. Guides identified each star in the Big Dipper in a star game—sent Morse messages—learned to recognize trees and flowers in individual search, with help from books of reference placed at their disposal and had an exciting "pancake flipping" competition which involved a fire-lighting test down on the beach. The Campfire was lighted on carefully uncurled ground in the open. A version of "Old MacDonald had a farm" was quickly learned with the names of all his farm stock in Spanish and a singing game of "Elephants" was great fun. Before "Taps" ever Guide lighted her fire-cracker from the dying campfire and the human fire-dancers danced about in the darkness with their frizzling little torches sputtering merrily.

On Saturday some First Class Badge work was done. The most exciting test was a water-boiling competition which involved a different kind of fire-lighting and the learning of the fisherman's knot before the can could be poised and the boiling begun. Then the heavens opened and literally poured down their blessings on us all, so campfire had to be around the great log-fire in the living room and that was good fun too. The children went home the richer for having found in two days of out of doors life satisfying resources in the world of nature around them and the delight of good-comradeship with one another.

Sunday was devoted to First Class training for Guiders. Two Guiders were awarded their First Class badges and two others added new tests to those already passed. In the afternoon the Guiders entertained at afternoon tea the committees of Beamsville, the Beach and Grimsby. Photographs were freely taken and a get-together of all the units of the Division was most happily achieved for the first time in the history of Guiding in West Lincoln.

Girl Guides

DIVISION OF WEST LINCOLN

A crowd of high spirited Guides and Brownies chanting the Guide International Song poured out of the "Girl Guide Special" train on Saturday evening, after an exciting day at the Rally of the West Central Area in Hamilton.

That Special Train had started in the morning from Niagara Falls with a load of Guides and Scouts which had included a company of American Girl Scouts in their national gray-green uniforms from Niagara Falls, N.Y. Then it had picked up more contingents at Merritt, St. Catharines, Beamsville and Grimsby and had pulled up at the Burlington-Gage siding to let us get to the Scott Park Stadium. There were assembled all the other units, from Oakville to Hamilton and from centres beyond Welland and Dunnville.

Colour parties took their stations, Guides to the West, Scouts to the East. A Guard of Honour of First Class Guides and of King Scouts lined the path along which passed the Chief Guide accompanied by the Provincial Commissioner, Mrs. Gordon Conant and the Area Commissioner Mrs. A. I. Coombes. West Lincoln provided one of those First Class Guides, Dorothy Saunders, of the 6th I.O.D.E. Co. Beamsville.

The Brownies danced, the Guides marched, the Scouts performed miracles of woodcraft, and the Chief Guide smiled approvingly on them all. Afterwards the Chief Guide had each Guide and Scout presented to her. Her address, as Colonel Miller said, was "an inspiration and a challenge" and had it's part in making the day a gala one to live in the memories of her young hearers.

The "Shower of Dimes" amounting to over $300, for the children of the devastated countries of Europe was presented by a Brownie, a Guide, a Wolf-cub and a Scout while an additional contribution was offered by a representative of the American Girl Scouts.

As the Chief Guide's car sped away, we saw the waving handkerchief become a white speck. Our "Special" was waiting, and with sang and laughter its journey home was a merry one.

The Division owes much to the care and foresight of Mr. Herbert Lindensmith who made the two journeys smooth and pleasant for a hundred and twenty-five Grimsby pilgrims.

BEAMSVILLE NEWS

ENGINEER REPORTS ON SEWER PROJECT FOR CRESCENT AVE.

With Reeve R. A. Saunders in the chair, and all members of Council present, the June session of Beamsville Council was held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday night.

Perhaps the most important item brought up was the reading of the engineer's report on the Crescent Avenue storm sewer project. Coming under the local improvement act, the report was complete in every respect, and outlined the cost to the Village and also to the residents of Crescent Ave, who will share in the cost of the project. The report was accepted by Council, and the matter will now be taken to the town solicitor, who will prepare a by-law. The whole matter should be cleaned up, ready for action by the next meeting of Council, if not before.

Also receiving attention was the proposed fire hall. It was expected that excavation would have been completed sometime ago, however, the county shovel has been occupied elsewhere, and no digging has taken place.

Awaiting on Council was Earl Lumley, of Lumley Builders, who will erect the structure. It was decided that the building would be built of cement rock-face blocks, with a red brick front. The possibility of using plain blocks, and stuccoing the building at a later date was mentioned, but Council decided on the rock-face type of block.

Mrs. E. Reid, property owner of the Everett block awaited on Council, re the water course running through her property at the corner of Hixon and King Streets. She is in receipt of a letter from the Board of Health, stating that the ditch was inspected by one of their inspectors, and his findings were of a nature, so as to warrant immediate action being taken.

Mrs. Reid told Council that the water was polluted not only at her property, but also far above, even to the southern extremity of the water course. It is a well known fact that several septic tanks drain into this ditch, and this makes for a most disagreeable odour, plus a most unsanitary condition. It was her wish that the section of ditch near her property be covered over, and that samples of the water be analysed.

This did not hit an agreeable chord with Council, who took the stand that if this one ditch was covered, other property owners would demand that similar ditches be covered over. The whole matter hinges on what difference a sewer system would make to the town.

Following considerable discussion, Saunders stated that he would see that the Board of Health take samples of the water at several points along the water course in question, and that Mrs. Reid would receive a copy of their findings. No agreement was reached on whether or not the ditch at the Reid property would be covered.

There is a possibility that the property known as the Gillroy property, which is owned by the Village, will be sold by tender. However it was learned that Council was not too familiar with the property, which was purchased for $650, for a water right. The property borders the Village water supply. The Clerk was instructed to find out the particulars of the land or lands.

A letter was read, stating that Lincoln County's request for a flasher system at the crossing north of Beamsville was turned down by the railway. The accident record, plus the fact that the Railway Board consider the location a "better than average" crossing as far as sight is concerned, were the reasons given for the turning down of the County's request.

Assessor Stirling presented his new type of cards for assessing, which will be inaugurated this year. With this system rate-payers will find that there are many new questions to answer, as compared to the old style of assessing. The system is being adopted throughout the County.

Mr. J. B. Stallwood was appointed by Council to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mrs. W. D. Fairbrother, on the board of the Beamsville Public Library.

Three building permits were granted, these including a house to be built by Lloyd Richardson on Crescent Ave., and a house to be erected on John Street.

Accounts totalling $6565.40 were read and passed, and the first police report from P.C. Wm. Bayes was read and adopted. The report was detailed, and met with the approval of Council.

Stuff 'Round Town

by GORD MCGREGOR

This week is the one Stan Gibson has been waiting for. This Saturday is his closing episode at the old stand. Officially no announcement has been made by Imperial Oil, as to who will operate the station.

John Tabash of 77 College St. Guelph, swerved his 1931 Studebaker to avoid striking a youth on No. 8 Highway, last Sunday afternoon, east of Beamsville. In doing so his auto clipped off five guard rails, causing about a hundred and fifty bucks worth of damage to the car. P.C. Gillings investigated.

Earl Konkle and his cousin Mr. C. A. Brown of Niagara Falls, N.Y., left Tuesday afternoon for Point Au Baril, where they will join Charlie Shafer and Elmer Groff who have been there since last Saturday catching a few big ones. They'll probably get bigger on the way back home on the weekend.

Due to repairs to the railway bridge at Burlington, stone from Beamsville is being held up, pending completion of the job. King Paving trucks continue to pile the massive rocks up at the Beamsville station.

Beamsville entrants in the finals of the Junior Farmer sponsored public speaking and musical contest did pretty well for themselves. The triple trio from the Lower Thirty Public School were nosed out of first place in the finals. The triple trio was conducted by Mr. E. N. Comfort, Principal of the Thirty. Miss Dorothy Manley daughter of ex-police chief Arnold Manley, acquired third place, and Evanka Knafelc, also of Beamsville was placed sixth. All these were in the music contest.

Strawberries are now being picked in fairly large quantities and a few sweet cherries have made their appearance on roadside stands. The cherries of the Seneca variety are probably picked a trifle prematurely, what with birds and gangs of cycling youths hitting the Beamsville streets resurfaced. Accots have all been Commissioner Arching to Road coin County Roads, Island of Lin-done in just about two job was

The streets have suffeys. considerably during the past six years, and have not been re-surfaced since the war started.

Ten carloads of stone and around eight thousand gallons of liquid asphalt were used on the job, which is done on a cost basis for the Village by the County of Lincoln road staff.

Work is now continuing on Ontario Street and Green Lane, both of which are County roads. King Street, which is actually No. 8 Highway, is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Highways, and may be re-surfaced at a later date.

St. Alban's W.A.

The regular meeting of the St. Alban's W.A. was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. Strong.

There was a fair attendance, and a portion of the meeting was turned over to the arranging of a tea to be held on June 25th, at the residence of Mrs. H. Tish.

A successful auction was held at the close of the meeting, followed by the serving of a tasty lunch by the hostess Mrs. Strong.

trees pretty hard. Neither the birds of the thieves give a hoot for a slight tart flavour.

The Beamsville Farm Service Force will open on Friday officially, on the arrival of fifteen girls from various points throughout Ontario. High Schools have just released students wishing to go with the Force.

The Force which is operated by the Y.M.C.A. takes great care in choosing its leaders, and the Beamsville camp will be under the capable directorship of Miss R. Vanderlip, a graduate of the University of Toronto. The supervisor of the west Niagara District is Mrs. Norma Kerr of Toronto. The Labor Secretary will arrive on Friday.

The Beamsville camp was not opened last year, due to the crop failure in this district, but with better than average crops apparently on the schedule for this year, fruit growers will welcome the assistance given by these Y.W.C.A. operated camps.

Over a forty-eight hour period in the month of May, here are the figures now released, as taken by checkers at the Beamsville crossing re the erection of a flasher signal.

Trains west—25; Trains east—26.

Pedestrians south—96; Pedestrians north—76.

Vehicles south—752; Vehicles north—779.

According to this twenty persons walked over the tracks going south, and never returned. While twenty seven more vehicles crossed the tracks going north than south.

Now that the whole thing has been turned down, it remains for someone to lose his life at the crossing, then perhaps somebody will erect the needed signal system.

"Night Of Fun" A Big Success

The "Night of Fun" was a very great success, and the men and women who planned to big night deserve a lot of credit. It is a tribute to the extinct War Services, which during the war, performed a job for the servicemen and women of this district, that was not bettered by any place in the Dominion of Canada, bar none.

Naturally the tremendous job of getting out some six hundred invitations, arranging the fine entertainment, decorating the spacious community hall, and providing food for the large crowd was quite a task, but with fine workers on each of the committees, plus the much appreciated financial aid of the Beamsville and Clinton Township Councils, the event was perhaps the highlight of the 1946 season.

Some two hundred and thirty five servicemen and women were present, and first heard George Shepherd extend a welcome, followed by brief addresses by the Reeves of Clinton and Beamsville. Also included in the vast crowd were representatives from all the organizations active in this district, members of the two councils, and next of kin of men who paid the supreme sacrifice in the conflict which ended a year ago.

Mr. Shepherd asked that the crowd rise, and observe a period of silence, in memory of those who gave their lives. White carnations were presented to the wives, mothers and next of kin. There were twenty seven white carnations.

The hall was gaily decorated for the occasion, with long streamers of red white and blue hanging from the light standards. A large Union Jack graced the rear of the crowded auditorium, and the stage was festooned with spring flowers.

The entertainment itself was of a high calibre, and the program will be long remembered by those present. Horace Lapp and his famous band gave out with plenty of solid rhythm, not only for dancing, but also giving fine support to the top notch entertainers, whose efforts were much appreciated by the audience.

The lunch committee, under the conensorship of Mrs. R. A. Saunders prepared a tasty and appetizing lunch, distributed in decorated baskets. Members of all the organizations comprised this committee, which handled the large job with meticulous care and grace.

And so the servicemen have been given their official welcome home. Probably there will be other festivities in the future. However there is little doubt but that the men and women who were the guests of honour really consider the organizations like the War Services, who during the war did a magnificent job of keeping them supplied with a few of luxuries that were unobtainable overseas, a pretty good bunch of citizens. It was a fitting climax for the War Services committee to have been the original group to formulate the plans for such an entertainment, which like their work during the war, was just about tops.

loaded plant. This plant will continue to function properly if given the capacity. I do not suggest a new location.

Said Dr. Berry, "health is the big item. We can put up with odors and combat them, but when it comes to contaminating your water supply that is another thing. An epidemic could break out in a week."

Dr. Berry told council that they did not need to issue debentures for the reconstruction of the plant if they did not wish to do so. A new legislation had been passed that allowed them to finance on a sewer rental basis instead of by tax-rate. Rental charges could be collected with the water rates. The rental payments would extend over the same period of years as the debentures would be issued. Operating costs are also included in the rental charges.

Council assured Dr. Berry that they were studying every angle of the sewage question and would be taking action as soon as possible and feasible under building conditions.

Roy Farrell appeared before council on behalf of Robinson street north residents to ascertain what chance there would be of getting sewers on that street. Council could give him no assurance.

James A. Aitchison representing the National Housing Act, under which 10 new houses for veterans are to be built on Aitchison Terrace, asking for sewer connections for these houses. In all probability it would be a year before they would be all connected maybe longer.

Keith Brown presented a fully signed petition from the residents of Gibson avenue asking for sewer on that street.

Council went into a session for a these requests. It is absolutely possible to do anything sent on son street until such utility pump can be placed at Robinson of John street and a as as on that street. This is the corn the lay of the land.

After lengthy and some by heated debate the following was read:—Bonham-Lewis—"This council give assurance to M Aitchison that in case of Nation Housing erecting houses on Aitchison Terrace survey, that the council will lay sewers over the indicated streets on the Aitchison survey, also that this the town sure Mr. Brown on below in petitions on Gibson Avenue registered ers will be laid coincidental as survey job if materials of the tained, subject to the at sew the Municipal Board." with the ried with Reeve Hewitt be ob-

Clerk Bourne was instructed to write a letter of sympathy to Andrew Cloughley, Supt. of Queen's Lawn cemetery, on his recent bereavement.

How To Freeze Strawberries

"It's June in January," might well be the theme song of home-makers who have access to cold storage locker plants or home freezing units and freeze their own garden fresh vegetables and fruits. Being able to bring summer flavor and variety to winter menus more than compensates for the small effort expended in preparing and freezing food.

The newly revised bulletin, FREEZING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, contains the latest information on what and how to freeze. Directions are simple and specific, and will give excellent results to the home-maker freezing food for the first time, as well as to more experienced hands at this method of food preservation. This bulletin is based in actual experimental work carried on by the home economists, of the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, last season. The methods advocated are those which were found to give the best results among the numerous recommendations tried out.

Free copies of FREEZING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Russia is now talking about the next war. We wonder who will finance it.

"SALADA" TEA

There is one beauty about living in a tent. You don't have to worry about termites.

If you can make more clap-trap than your neighbor the world will build a path to your door.

An old-timer is the one who can remember when, "Oh, you kid" was a snappy retort.

What the consumer would like to see is for supply to catch up and get in step with demand.
